We provide pathways to safety for people experiencing domestic and family violence in Queensland.

Our team listens, believes and is guided by you on what information or steps you would like to take.

Please call us if you feel unsafe at home. We can help you create a plan to protect yourself and your family. This includes safety planning, advice and information.

If you have experienced violence but are not currently at risk, your local domestic violence service can support you. If you are actively experiencing violence, you should call 000.

If you are in an immediate crisis and need an urgent pathway to safety, we can provide:

- Emergency transport
- Emergency housing
- Crisis counselling
- Information and support for you, your children and your pets
